Q#1 The RFQ requires audited rates except if one is submitting (under the RFQ) for a lump-sum project. Since the Traffic and Revenue Forecasting submission does not require audited rates, and will pay consultants based on a monthly fee and a fee per bond issuance, can we ignore the audited rate requirement in the RFQ? our firm does not have an audited overhead and we typically provide buildable rates only. Thank you

A#1 Firms responding to the Commission's RFP for Traffic and Revenue Forecasting and Planning Services, which are also simultaneously submitting a Qualification Statement in response to the Commission's Biennial Request for Qualifications for Construction Engineering & Inspection Services, et seq., should provide as complete a Qualification Statement as possible, including the requested audited overhead rate. If the Responding Firm does not have an audited overhead rate, please note this in the Qualification Statement. Responses that do not include the audited rate will not be considered as pre-qualified to perform any services for the Commission other than those performed under the subject Traffic and Revenue Forecasting and Planning RFP.

Q#2 Are Responding Firms required to use the gray envelope provided when submitting their Proposals.

A#2 No. The Commission provided the gray envelope for Responding Firms to use at their convenience. Regardless what envelope is used to deliver the Proposal, please include the identifying information on the bottom left corner so the Commission's Procurement Department can note the timely receipt of the response.
