Q#1 "Certificate of Analysis" are issued per lot or batch number. Therefore the only way one can provide the Certificate of Analysis (WITH THE BID) per the requirement is to purchase materials, hold the materials in hope that you are the successful bidder.

Would the commission consider waiving the Certificate of Analysis and have it submitted once award is made or consider a letter from the manufacturer indicating the proposed High Density Polyurethane complies with the material specifications at the time of the bid submission?

A#1 The Commission will accept a letter submitted with the bid from the manufacturer indicating that the proposed high-density polyurethane conforms to the specifications.
